To Whom It May Concern:

Rudd Construction Incorporated is currently performing construction management services for our school district and has requested a letter of reference from us.

Rudd personnel competed with twelve other companies for the management contract. The company was chosen on the basis of past performance and proven ability to undertake and complete the project. Their bid was among the lowest of the twelve bids.

We have been completely satisfied with the company's performance at this point in the project, and anticipate that we will continue to be pleased. Their cost estimates have been very detailed and accurate, and personnel assigned to the various projects have been diligently representing us in dealing with sub-contractors and trades people. When deadlines are set, they have been met.

We especially appreciate the way the various projects are coming in on budget. They won't finish until late summer, but it appears that they will be able to accomplish nearly everything we've asked for within the funds allocated.

In short, we feel we have selected the right company for the job and can recommend Rudd Construction without condition. I would be happy to furnish more information if needed.
